

BG Products MGC Instructions

If installing BG Multi Gear Concentrate at the same time as a fluid change; the best method is to begin pumping fluid into the transmission and then pour the contents of the MGC into the bottle of fluid you are dispensing.

If installing this product after the fact simply use the pump and cup supplied in Your BG kit to install it in the transmission. You can also slightly loosen the drain plug and remove a cup full of fluid, add the MGC and pump it back into the transmission.

We may have supplied you with one of the following containers. One uses a screw cap, which will accept the pump. The other is a squeeze tube, which can be directly inserted in the end of the pump. Using this method will leave some product in the pump and lines so we recommend mixing it with your existing fluid and pumping it back in so more product will present in the oil.
